TRIBES GATHER TO DO HOMAGE

Great White Father From Washington Reaches Keokuk, Iowa, And Is Greeted.

CHIEFS OF STATE TRIBES PRESENT

Starts Down The Great Father Of Waters Escorted By Flotilla Of Boats For St. Louis—Inspection Tour Begins.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Keokuk, Ia., Oct. 1.—All Keokuk lent itself today to the reception of President Roosevelt in his two hours' stay here. The population of the city was multiplied by throngs of sight-seers from the nearby sections of Iowa, Illinois and Missouri. There was a general closing of all business houses and along the route of the procession from the station to the stand in Rand Park, where the President delivered his address, and thence to the river wharf the residences and stores were covered with lavish decorations of flags and bunting. The sidewalks and streets were packed and at several points the school children were massed, singing national songs, as the procession passed. The Presidential party reached the city on schedule time. Waiting on the station platform were the reception committee, headed by Governor Cummins, the mayor of the city and other dignitaries. Members of the Indian Waterways Commission, who are to accompany the President on the trip down the Mississippi, were also in attendance. The President was escorted to Rand Park by a detachment of the Iowa National Guard, with several visiting governors and other notables following in carriages. The President's speech was listened to by a crowd that numbered into the thousands and his remarks were received by loud and enthusiastic applause.

The departure of the steamboat carrying the Presidential party and the waterways commission was the most picturesque feature of the day's program. As the boats steamed away from their landing, the steam whistles of the other craft and of numerous factories blew a farewell and the thousands of people who lined the river front joined in a hearty cheer. The steamboat carrying the President will make no stops between Keokuk and St. Louis, and is due to reach the last-named city at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Many of the visiting governors and other public men who were here to join in the reception of the President will travel to St. Louis by special train and will take part in the exercises there tomorrow.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 1.—The finishing touches to the preparations for the visit of President Roosevelt are being put on today. The river front and the downtown section of the city are taking on a gala appearance. Building after building is now great mass of color from sidewalk to roof and the national colors are everywhere in the shape of shields, bunting and countless number of flags. Especially notable are the decorations of Bala and Merchants' bridges and the elevated road along the levee.

Nearly a score of governors will be in St. Louis tomorrow morning to greet and accompany the President on his trip to Memphis. The commercial and improvement organizations of cities and towns throughout the Mississippi Valley are also well represented among the thousands of visitors now in the city. The governors and other noted visitors now here will be guests of honor at the Volled Prophets hall tonight.

The chief features of tomorrow's program are as follows: The steambot Mississippi, bearing the President and his party, will arrive about 8 a. m. At the landing the civic courtesies will be extended. The President will be escorted to the mammoth Jai Alai building, where he will deliver an address. This address is expected to be the most important the President will make during his entire trip. A luncheon at the Jeffersonian Hotel will follow and then the party will leave for another section of the journey, that from St. Louis to Cairo.

The boat will leave St. Louis at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and reach Cairo about 5 o'clock Thursday morning. The governors will accompany the Presidential party, using the Alton, a sister boat of the Mississippi. A great demonstration will mark the President's departure from St. Louis. Every steamer and tug on the river will take part and a flotilla of river craft will accompany the party for miles down the Mississippi.

The entertainment of the President in St. Louis has been left entirely in the hands of the Business Men's League, which organization was chief instrumental in persuading Mr. Roosevelt to undertake the Mississippi river trip. The officers and many leading members of the league will accompany the President to Memphis to take part in the Deep Waterways Convention to be held there the last of the week. They will make the journey on the Alton, the same boat that will convey the governors to Memphis.

STRANGE DROWNING IN MILWAUKEE RIVER

Mystery Hovers Over Man Who Disappeared—Only Witness Has Disappeared.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Bartons, Wis., Oct. 1.—One of the strangest mysteries that has ever troubled the police of western Wisconsin, is contained in a drowning here, in which Ed. Remlinger met his death. Walking along the railroad track near here, the man suddenly dropped and jumped into the icy Milwaukee river. He was seized with cramps and sank to his death, after calling for help. He was accompanied by another stranger when he made the leap. This man has disappeared. Fishermen on Turtle Island saw the mysterious death.

While Remlinger made out that he lived at Belgium, the police find that he went under an assumed name and never saw Remlinger, in all probability, in fact, it is believed his home is in Milwaukee. It is believed that the man was once well-to-do. At least he gave evidence of refinement and education.

Prominent men advise young men to go into politics. A great statesman once said: "Politics comes nearer religion with me—a party more like a church, error more like heresy, prejudice more like sin—than I find it to be with better men."

Lawpartner of Ex-Mayor Rose to Start on Tour of State to Enroll More Pythians.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Port Washington, Wis., Oct. 1.—There will be no assessment in October for the Woodmen of America, according to official reports received here. Large treasury balances warrant this procedure.

The Equitable Fraternal Union, originally a Wisconsin institution, has begun a campaign for new members throughout the northwest, awarding sets of dishes as prizes for lodges landing the most new members.

H. S. Witte, grand chancellor of the Wisconsin Pythians, is soon to start out on a tour of various local lodges in Wisconsin, in an effort to build up the order where it is needed. Mr. Witte is also a Mason, Elc, Forester and belongs to other orders. He is the lawpartner of H. S. Rose of Milwaukee, but even while assistant city attorney of Milwaukee, found ample time to do perhaps more work for fraternal orders than any other one man in Wisconsin.

EPISCOPAL BISHOPS MEET IN TRIENNIAL CONVENTION

Richmond, Virginia, The Scene Of The Gathering Of The Heads Of The Church.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Richmond, Va., Oct. 1.—The intellectual and power of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States are concentrated in Richmond today. On every train distinguished bishops, active clergymen and influential laymen from all parts of the country have been pouring into the city, until even hotel corridors for once in their history might be mistaken for the vestibules of churches, so numerous thereabout are men of priestly mien. At many of the aristocratic residences bishops and clergymen have found splendid quarters.

At Holy Trinity Church this morning, where the sessions of the triennial convention will begin tomorrow, a great throng of churchmen were assembled. The gathering was informal, the gentlemen visiting the convention hall for the purpose of getting their mail and obtaining information relative to their quarters. Among the notable arrivals today were many of the bishops of the church, including the venerable Bishop Tuttle who will preside over the triennial session. The Bishop of London is another prominent visitor who will receive much attention. J. Pierpont Morgan, with his guests, will arrive tonight or tomorrow morning in his private car and take possession of the private home which he has rented for $5,000 a month.

Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock the regular sessions of the convention will begin. The day will be dedicated by the celebration of holy communion in all of the Episcopal churches of the city. At Holy Trinity services will be held at both 7 and 8 o'clock and at 9 o'clock prayer and litany will be observed after which the church will be put in readiness for the ceremonial celebration of the day. At 11 o'clock the bishops will form in procession and march to the church. They will be clad in the robes of their office and will be preceded by the choir. The processionary hymn will be sung as the choir and bishops enter the church. Bishop Tuttle will preside over the ceremonies. At 4 o'clock the first session of the convention will be held.

Seldom if ever before in its history has the triennial convention met with so much important business to transact. Two leading questions which are expected to cause much discussion will be the divinity of a canon to prohibit absolutely the remarriage of divorced persons by ministers of the Episcopal church, and a plan for the creation of negro bishops.

The observance of the tercentennial of the landing at Jamestown of English settlers and the establishment of the services of the church of England in America will occupy some of the time of the general convention, which will be in session about four weeks. A feature of the observance will be the presentation of a thank offering by the men of the Episcopal church for the progress of the past three centuries.

SECRETARY TAFT MAKES A HIT WITH THE JAPANESE

Says Neither The People Of Japan Or The United States Want War At All.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Tokio, Oct. 1.—Secretary Taft aroused the wildest enthusiasm and loud cheers when in the course of his speech at a banquet last evening, given in his honor, he declared that a war between the United States and Japan would be a crime against modern civilization, as wicked as it would be insane, adding that neither people desired it, and that both governments would do their utmost to guard against such an awful catastrophe. The secretary spoke with intense earnestness and after careful deliberation and preparation.

She may recover partial sight. Elmer Jackett, who works his brother in the management of the telephone exchange at Clinton, was preparing to place a telephone pole in solid rock yesterday and was drilling holes to blast, his assistant hammering the drill with a sledge, when a chip of iron flew off from the sledge and ploughed through his left eye, totally destroying the sight of that member beyond hope of recovery.

FROM SECRECY TO PUBLICITY

For many years the policy of large corporations has been a policy of secrecy. The stockholders, as well as the general public have been kept in ignorance and much unfavorable criticism resulted.

This has been especially true of corporations which monopolize certain lines of business, to large extent. The argument used was, that so long as stockholders received their dividends, they ought to be satisfied, and it was none of the public's business.

But a change has come over the scene, and today publicity is courted by all large corporations. The attitude of the government, in attempting to regulate certain lines of business, is largely responsible for these changed and wholesome conditions.

The Standard Oil company is perhaps the most conspicuous of any of the large corporations, in pursuing a course of publicity, although the railroads are playing a close second.

The Standard appears to have overreached itself in a pamphlet recently issued and distributed broadcast to stockholders and employees. This pamphlet is a defense for the company against the famous Judge Landis judgment of $25,000,000.

The claim is made that the published tariff rate on oil from Whiting, Illinois, where the Standard works are located, to St. Louis, has been 6 cents per hundred weight for ten years or more.

This statement is denied by government attorneys, who are interested in the case, and the claim is made that too much publicity may result in defeat.

Be that as it may, the policy of publicity adopted will not be disturbed, for it is the right policy. Secrecy, so long maintained by the great mutual life insurance companies, resulted in a form of corruption which looked with complacency upon wrongdoing, because long continued practice established a custom, which made the wrong seem right.

When the fact was brought out that every policy-holder was a stockholder, entitled to know how much money was received, and how it was spent, it caused a commotion in the ranks of directors, and revolution followed.

The stockholders of all large corporations are scattered all over the country, and so long as dividends are satisfactory, but little complaint is offered. This spirit of indifference, and its results are well brought out by a writer in the Atlantic for October. He says:

"There is nothing like distance to disfect dividends. Therefore the moral character of the stockholders makes very little difference in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation. Christian or heathen, native or alien, blue blood or plebeian, rich or poor, they all sanction much the same thing, and that is, the policy that promotes the biggest dividends in the long run. To the directors their virtual mandate is 'Get results!'"

The directors pass this mandate on to the officers. The officers pass it on to the heads of departments, and these send it on down the line. Take one gas company formed by saints and another formed by sinners. The directors of the two companies will be more alike than the stockholders, the officers will be still more alike, and the men that come into contact with the legislature or the city council, or the gas consumers, will not differ by a shade. The saintly stockholders not only do not know what is going on, but so long as the dividends are comfortable they resent having convenient knowledge thrust upon them."

THE PARCEL POST

Congressman Murphy, the democratic contingent from the third district, successor to Hon. J. W. Dubrock, has gained notoriety by denouncing the much-discussed parcel post, a measure now before congress, and which will be fought out at the next session.

This popular measure seeks to have the government, through the postoffice department, enter the field as a common carrier, and deliver packages by mail, at a nominal price, to all parts of the country.

The argument is used that it would be of great benefit to farmers, and to everybody else who has occasion to buy away from home.

Mr. Murphy says, and very correctly, that this would mean the death knell to country. It is the last club needed by mail order houses and big department stores, to kill off small competition, and if adopted, grass would grow in the streets of many towns which today are prosperous.

There is no sentiment in business and the old doctrine of the survival of the fittest, has driven many a man to the wall. People are constantly looking for bargains. The thrifty housekeeper will walk a mile to save a nickel on a sack of flour, for she needs the nickel to help out on the $1.35 hat that she proposes to order from the city bargain counter tomorrow.

The average inland town, the country over, has been at a standstill for 25 years. They used to be the marketplace for the surrounding country, but today many of them are abandoned and their businessmen are trying to extract a living from the few people who can't get money enough together to send to a mail order house. These local businessmen carry the dead-weights, while the cash trade, to large extent, goes out of town.

Two of these big concerns in Chicago sold last year $50,000,000 worth of goods, and every dollar was in the bill before the goods were shipped. That's more money than was handled by all the retail merchants in the inland towns of Wisconsin, during the same period, and a liberal sprinkling of it was Wisconsin money.

Spasmodic efforts are made, from time to time, to stem this tide of unequal competition. The retail merchants of Iowa recently perfected a state organization and agreed to combine efforts in a campaign of publicity, for self-protection. This is a common-sense move, and the most practical of any yet suggested.

If the merchants of any town will unite for self-protection, and for a year will agree to persistently keep before their patrons, in the local field, the prices at which their goods are sold, guaranteeing to meet competition, quality for quality, much will be accomplished in retarding the mail order catalogue.

It may be possible, in this age of concentration, that the country town and small dealer will be wiped from the map, but the government can hardly afford to be a party to the suicidal transaction.

The parcel post would be a good thing for the cities, and large centers of trade, but ruinous to the towns and villages all over the land. Congressman Murphy should be encouraged in his opposition to the measure.

Irish Alphabet.

The Irish language has only eighteen letters. Sometimes each letter is written separately and not joined together. The chief difficulty in learning Irish is that there are innumerable abbreviations for words and phrases. The Irish language is non-phonetic, the words rarely being a key to the correct pronunciation.

Area of Turkey.

The area of that part of Turkey under the direct control of the sultan is 1,115,946 square miles; of the whole empire, including tributary and subject states, 1,579,982 square miles. The total population of all parts of the empire is 49,449,357, of whom 24,931,600 are in Turkey proper. Constantinople has a population of about 1,130,000.

Futility of Complaint.

In reckoning up successes in life, poor and humble are the ones we are inclined to ignore. To be blind to the qualifications of others and blind to the calamities of the rest is all that is wanting to enable us to make a comparison by which we can become convinced past all shaming that we are "the most unfortunate people in the world." That does not help us to be more fortunate.

WATCH WAR AFFECTS A JANESVILLE MAN

W. S. Hayes Denies the System of Inspection of Railroad Men's Watches is Unjust.

One of the warmest fights of the late convention of the American National Retail Jewelers' association in Chicago was the fight against the rail system of watch inspection as it exists in sixty-two of the leading railroads of the country. W. S. Hayes, a resident of Janesville, spoke before the convention, defending the system and said in part relative to the inspection as follows:

Gives Figures to Prove Denial. "In answer to the charge that the rail watches are forced into the railroad service, I will show the records of three railroads," said Mr. Hayes. "The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, which we have had for fifteen years, has 3,199 watches carried by its employees. Of these 511 are rail watches."

"The Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad carries 1,170 watches. Of these 413 are rail. The Illinois Central has 5,537 watches in use and 1,199 are rail watches. These figures are carried out in all the other roads."

"The latest circular issued by Webb C. Ball, giving orders as to what watches the railroad men should use, gives the employees the choice of Waltham watches, five sizes; Hamilton watches, seven sizes; Elgin watches, six sizes; Hampden watches, four sizes; Rockford watches, two sizes; Illinois watches, three sizes, and rail watches, two sizes."

"All now watches must be lever set," says the circular. "Old watches now in service shall be equal to a quality represented by the Waltham Crescent Street and the Elgin Raymond."

"As to the price, the figures again speak for themselves. They say we charge $31 for a $25 watch. Our regulation watch is a fourteen-jewel watch, selling for $31 in a retail case. A watch of another company of equal grade sells for $31 the movement alone. Our twenty-jewel watch, selling for $38 for movement and case, sells for $37.50 for the movement alone when bought from another company."

System Costs Railroads Little. Economy is the only reason given by railroad men for the present system of watch inspection. Under present conditions watch inspection costs the railroads nothing save the annual passes to the inspectors and their families.

"The trainmen may be the victims of a gigantic graft," said one opposing official, "but this is the first time I have heard of it. Still, I don't see how the possibility can be avoided unless the system is changed. As it is, the watch inspector is given a pass for himself and family. On some roads one special watch is designated, and usually the type is specified, and, as there are half a dozen companies making watches of this character, any one of them is presumed to be all right if passed by the inspector. That, of course, is the loop hole, but to get around it inspectors would have to be paid salaries, and there is one for every three or four hundred miles of track the expense would be double."

WANT THE FEDERAL COURTS CURBED

ATTORNEYS GENERAL OF MANY STATES DISCUSS TROUBLE.

CONVENTION IN ST. LOUIS

Conflicts Between National and State Tribunals, Anti-Trust Laws and Railways Rate Legislation Debated.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—A strong desire to do away with the conflict of jurisdiction between state and federal courts, and, as one of the phases of that, to restrict the power of federal courts in their dealings with matters pertaining wholly to a state, seemed to be the prevailing sentiment at a convention of attorneys general from 15 states of the union at the Southern hotel Monday.

Most of the trouble was traced to the fourteenth amendment to the constitution. Attorney General H. V. Fletcher of Mississippi said he did not see why it should not be repealed, as it did no good for the negroes for whom it was originally passed, and succeeded only in embarrassing the state courts.

Papers Read the First Day. The meeting was called on August 12 by a committee of which Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri was chairman, and Mr. Hadley acted as chairman at the convention. The purpose was announced to be the general discussion of anti-trust laws, railroad rate regulation and state rights, and the papers read bore out that idea.

The following papers were given Monday: "Anti-Trust Laws," J. P. Lightfoot, assistant attorney general of Texas; "Railroad Rate Regulation," Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general of Missouri; "Conflict Between State and Federal Courts," Edward T. Young, attorney general of Minnesota.

For Tuesday the following papers are announced: "The Standard Oil Trust," Wade H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio; "Capitalization of Public Service Corporations," Dana Malone, attorney general of Massachusetts; "State Regulation of Public Utilities," William S. Jackson, attorney general of New York.

Some Anti-Trust Suggestions. The opening paper was read by Mr. Lightfoot of Texas on "Anti-Trust Laws." To meet the evils caused by illegal combinations in restraint of trade, Mr. Lightfoot suggested that the federal government should amend its laws on the following points: There should be a reduction of tariff on all necessities of life; there should be prohibition of interstate transportation of trust-made goods; there should be legislation prohibiting the use of trusts and monopolies when convicted as such; there should be legislation strengthening the laws against secret rebates and preferential tariffs.

Two prominent millionaires, Wilhelm Olsson and Gustav Kyllberg, have subscribed $133,000 toward the expense of the undertaking. NEW ROCHELLE IS EXCITED

SOCIAL FAVORITE CALLED A BURGLAR AND BARTENDER.

"Dr." Dolin's Past is Revealed, He Forfeits His Bonds and Wife Attempts Suicide.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The excitement under which New Rochelle labored Sunday when Samuel Dolin, who posed as a wealthy physician, was arrested on a charge of burglary, was augmented Monday, when developments came thickly.

In the first place, Dolin failed to appear in court when his case was called and the $3,000 bail which friends had put up for him was forfeited. The next shock came when Mrs. Dolin told the police that, while she believed her husband owned an interest in a drug store in Harlem, his regular occupation was that of bartender in a saloon in the Bronx. Then came the assertion that Dolin had served a prison term in New Jersey and had been arrested for burglary and other things in New York.

This was followed by the report that Mrs. Dolin had attempted suicide. She threw herself in front of a slowly moving trolley car on Main street Monday afternoon, but the car was stopped before she was in any danger. Later the police stated that she had disappeared from town and they did not know where she had gone.

According to the story of Mrs. Dolin, her husband attempted twice to kill himself after he was released on bail Sunday night, but she prevented him. Soon after, she said, he left the house and disappeared.

Dolin and his wife, who moved here two months ago and bought a house in the exclusive section of town, were received into society and became very popular. Dolin was understood to be a physician and chemist and proprietor of a drug store in Harlem. Early last Thursday morning, the police claim, he attempted burglary at Abraham Lovinson's hardware store.

If weak, worn-out, nervous, cannot sleep; have indigestion, headache, neuralgia or periodic pains, it is because your nerves are weak. It is the lack of nerve force that makes the stomach, heart, lungs, etc., work imperfectly—become sick. "Almost three years I suffered from nervousness, indigestion, and palpitation of the heart. I could not eat or sleep with comfort, or walk or talk in a bad condition. My doctor did not seem to do me any good. I had tried so many remedies that I did not have much hope of any of them doing me any good. Dr. Miles' Nerve was suggested by a friend. I got relief from the first, and after a few days I felt like a new person. I not only relieved my heart and nerves, but had regained my whole system. I am very grateful because since I have stopped using it, I have had absolutely no return of my old troubles." Mrs. H. W. HAY, 60 Summit Ave., Worcester, Mass. MOFFETT TO TELL OF OTHER REBATES

TO PROVE STATEMENTS

This, Says Attorney Rosenthal, the Witness Summoned by Judge Landis Will Be Able to Do Easily.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—James A. Moffett, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, arrived in Chicago at 10 a. m. Monday to face a new angle of the oil investigation. He came in response to a subpoena ordered by Judge Landis for the purpose of placing before the special federal grand jury an explanation of his charges published in pamphlet form that practically every other shipper in the Chicago-Whiting district is guilty of accepting unlawful concessions from the railroads.

To Prove Charges, Says Rosenthal.

It was his intention following the imposition of the $29,240,000 fine that the Standard Oil company had been selected as a victim that caused Judge Landis to order the investigation. That Mr. Moffett will give evidence completely justifying his charges that neighboring shippers have been equally guilty as the Standard was the information given out by Morris Rosenthal, associate counsel for the convicted oil company. Mr. Moffett declined to be interviewed.

"While there may be no legal barrier to Mr. Moffett's discussing in advance of the hearing the testimony he will submit to the grand jury tomorrow, it would not be ethically proper," said Mr. Rosenthal. "I can say, however, that Mr. Moffett is ready to substantiate the statements credited to him in the pamphlet. There are many others, including myself, who could give sufficient proof to justify the statements made."

Must Be Specific, Says Sims.

District Attorney Sims indicated that the witness would be pressed for information of the most specific sort. "It is well understood," he said, "that all evidence considered by the grand jury must be competent. It is useless for the grand jury to listen to or act on evidence that is hearsay or immaterial. It follows therefore that a witness before the grand jury can tell only what he knows of his own knowledge. If he does not know all the necessary facts to be a competent witness he must be able to tell who does know them. The prosecutor would not allow an indictment to be voted unless the evidence is of such a character that if uncontradicted it would warrant the petit jury in returning a verdict of guilty."

John B. Stanchfield, who appeared for Senator Platt, asked that the matter be heard in private by a referee. He said Senator Platt was never married to Miss Wood, and therefore there was no ground for divorce. Justice Scabury reserved decision.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 1.—Sheriff Canlas and a posse have gone to Whistler to begin pursuit of an unknown negro who seized Mrs. Johnson at her front gate early Monday night. She screamed and the negro fled. A neighbor shot at him several times as

TENTH CHICAGO BOMB.

Another Explosion Credited to the War Among Gamblers.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—In the midst of the grand jury's searching investigation of pool selling in Chicago and the bomb mystery attached thereto, there happened Monday night another nitroglycerin explosion, evidently intended to let another of the gamblers know the "enemy" was alert.

This latest—No. 10 of the bomb series—occurred at 11:30 o'clock, and the saloon of ex-attorney John A. Rogers, West Madison and May streets, was the target. Rogers' place has been a notorious gambling center, and he was one of the witnesses who appeared earlier in the day before the grand jury, which is expected to return wholesale gambling indictments. No damage was done.

The Soft-Snappers.

"Whenever I see a youth looking for 'a soft snap' I pity him. There can be no doubt where he will end if he does not change his tactics. If he does not brace up, take stock of himself and put vim and purpose and energy into his life, he will surely join the great army of the 'might-have-beens.'"—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

Stick to Their Own Tongue.

In Wales there are about 508,000 people, who cannot speak English. Welsh being their only language; in Scotland there are 43,000 persons who can speak nothing but Gaelic, and in Ireland there are 32,000 who can express themselves only in the Irish tongue.—Exchange.

Fortune in Fighting Bulls.

Statistics published in Spain state that during 1904 nearly 15,000 bulls were killed in bull fights. The bulls killed about 10,000 horses. The best and most valuable bulls for the arena are raised on the vast estates of the duke of Veragua, in Andalusia, who has made a fortune out of this business.—London Globe.

DOCTOR THE ITCH WHERE THE ITCH IS.

Don't Dose the Stomach to Cure Eczema and Other Skin Diseases. Those afflicted with Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, or other skin diseases of a similar nature, should never dose the stomach to rid themselves of the itching. They should doctor the itch where the itch is, not through the stomach.

Eczema and other diseases of a kindred kind are skin diseases—not blood diseases. Science has shown that Eczema is caused by germs in the skin, and that the disease can be eliminated only by killing the germs.

Dr. DeCatur D. Dennis was one of the first physicians to follow out the germ theory in skin diseases. Then he discovered that by mixing oil of wintergreen with other soothing agents he had a liquid prescription which killed the germs and cured the awful itch, leaving the skin white and smooth. Since that time this D. D. D. Prescription has been the standard remedy for skin diseases. The standard D. D. D. soap is the standard high grade skin soap.

The first few drops of D. D. D. give instant relief from the terrible itch and from the frightful burning of the diseased skin. So reliable is this D. D. D. remedy that hundreds of physicians prescribe it. It is as wash as thin as water and as mild as air, pure, which is applied to the diseased portion of the skin.

Mrs. Frances Richmond of Milton, Trumbull county, Kentucky, writes: "My little girl's fingers were sore almost to the bone from Eczema. I used part of the sample bottle of D. D. D. Prescription received from you and now they are well. It is a wonderful skin remedy."

We carefully investigated this D. D. D. Prescription before recommending it to our neighbors and patrons, and after a long experience we are more than ever convinced of its wonderful merits.

J. P. Butler. You needn't decide now, but call at our store anyway an idea will show you how this D. D. D. Prescription gives instant relief from itch.

To Preserve Manx Language. The Manx Language society has been formed and to carry out its purpose of preserving the language of the Isle of Man will send a phonograph to different parts of the island, and old men whose accent is pure will speak into the receiver passages from Scripture, folk-lore stories, idiomatic sentences and proverbs. When the records are complete they will be kept at the society's rooms in Douglas. Cure for Hiccoughs. A cure for hiccoughs that gives prompt relief is to draw in as much air as the lungs will hold and retain it as long as possible. Once is generally sufficient, but if necessary it may be repeated. If this does not cure them raise the arms straight and high over your head and get some one to give you sips of water until the hiccoughs disappear. Swordsmanship Grows in Favor. Swordsmanship in one or other of its forms is making marked progress in England. New salles d'armes are being opened, and fresh clubs formed year by year in London and the provinces, and international matches have been arranged in which the English teams have at least borne themselves well. After Many Years. The grandfather sat in his easy chair and the grandson laughed: "Tut! Tut!" while he repeated the very latest joke—but it filled his heart with woe, when the old man sadly smiled and said: "My boy, that's a good joke, I know; I laughed myself when I heard it first—some fifty years ago."

Twenty thousand buildings in Iowa were equipped with the Dodd & Struther's Lightning Rod. With every rod went a guarantee of "money back" if the building equipped with it was damaged by lightning. But one of the buildings that had been rodded—the company wasn't called upon to make good its guarantee BECAUSE THE ROD MADE GOOD.

LIGHTNING
STRIKE

protected by their rod, in one state in one season, and not one struck, is pretty good proof of the claims we make for it. And today the Dodd & Struther's Rod protects over two hundred thousand buildings, not one of which has been damaged by lightning.

I am agent for 'Janesville' and vicinity for this rod. It's made of pure copper cable—no joints. Every rod I put up is covered by the same iron-clad guarantee—purchase price refunded if any building equipped with it is damaged by lightning.
